SustainaFest CEO and Young Filmmaker to Be Featured on Highly-Respected "Voices of the Chesapeake Bay" Program on WRNR-FM

Annapolis, MD - SustainaFest is pleased to announce that our Chief Executive Officer, George Chmael II, will be appearing on 103.1 WRNR-FM's award-winning "Voices of the Chesapeake," a highly-regarded radio talk show. Michael Buckley hosts this well-known Sunday morning program that features important stories highlighting critical Chesapeake Bay efforts. Chmael will be joined by Zach Chmael who leads Cleanest Line Media and has created a short film entitled "Let's Be The Change" in support of the SustainaFest effort. The show runs from 7-10am each Sunday and SustainaFest's appearance is slated for 9am on September 30, 2012.

103.1 WRNR-FM is an award-winning independent radio station located in Annapolis, Maryland. Known for its eclectic blend of rock and roll and modern music, WRNR maintains a strong and deep connection with the Annapolis area and the broader Chesapeake region. The long-standing "Voices of the Chesapeake Bay" program is part of that heritage and has helped chronicle important Bay-related initiatives and brought additional attention to the individuals, artists, books and music that help to tell the stories of the region.

"Michael's program is well-known for documenting critical Chesapeake Bay-related efforts and providing an important media outlet to help spread the word," stated SustainaFest CEO George Chmael II. "We are grateful for the chance to reach a broader audience with our story and hope that the additional exposure will help others learn about our work, up-coming events, and the opportunity to join the SustainaFest community."

Join the celebration - and ongoing conversation - on what we can all do to create a healthier, more prosperous, and sustainable Chesapeake Bay region. To learn more about SustainaFest, our events and activities, please visit www.sustainafest.org or email us at info@sustainafest.org
